CHAPTER 1
INTRODUCTION

A. Background of Research

In English there are four skills that should be mastered by the students such as listening, reading, speaking, and writing. There are also some language components such as pronunciation, spelling, vocabulary, and grammar that should be taught to support the language skill development. Those are language skills and components must be learned and taught integrate in teaching and learning process. It is almost impossible to learn a language without words, because communication between human beings is based on words. Vocabulary is one of the important language, because vocabulary is the central of language teaching and learning. By mastering the vocabulary, the learners will be able to produce so many sentences in spoken and written. Therefore, vocabulary mastery must be on the first priority in English language teaching and learning. Without mastering the vocabulary, it will be difficult for the learners to master the language skill.

It is believed that students lack vocabulary mastery. According to Nguyen Thi Thanh’s (2002:2) the most common problem that causes the students lack vocabulary are: first, they assume the teacher’s explanation for meaning or definition, pronunciation, spelling and grammatical functions are boring. In this case, the students have nothing to do in vocabulary learning because they just listen to their teacher. Second, the students only think of vocabulary learning as knowing the primary meaning of new words and they ignore all other functions of the words. Third, the learners only find new vocabulary through new words in their textbooks or when given by teachers during classroom lessons. So, they may not be able to use that word properly in different contexts or pronounce it correctly. Therefore, it would be better if the teacher apply a more effective technique to improve the students vocabulary by using games in teaching. Games can make the students more interesting and enjoy to learning English, especially vocabulary.

Game will help the students to improve their motivation in learning vocabulary, so they will be more serious to learn English. One of the games that can be applied by the teacher for teaching vocabulary is Fly Swatter game. Helena (2013:3) states that Fly Swatter Game is a game where the students have to get a words in the whiteboard by using the teacher’s instruction. This game helps the students to improve their vocabulary mastery and it can be a useful tool for the students. This game can encourage the students to be more active to find the words based on specific clue.

In this sense, teaching means transferring or delivering the knowledge or information from the teacher to the learner. Teacher understanding of how learners usually learn will determine the teacher philosophy of education, teaching style, approach, method, and classroom techniques that their used.
