Abstract: The purpose of this research was to know the types of code switching which were used by the teachers and to know teachers' thought about code switching. This research was conducted at SMP N 2 Sokaraja. This research used descriptive qualitative approach, and the major instruments used were observation and interview. There were two English teachers that involved as participant in this research. Based on the result of the study, the teachers often used code switching as their strategy in giving instructions. The code switching types used by teachers were tag code switching, inter sentential code switching, and intra sentential code switching. The most frequently used of code switching by the teachers was intra-sentential code switching. The use of code switching in giving instructions had big influence toward students understanding about their teachers' command. The positive effects were students can learn and get new vocabulary, students can understand about teachers' command, code switching can maintain and engage students' attention, code switching can be a conveying tool for achieving teaching and learning goals

Key words: English Teacher, Code Switching, Instructions, Types of Code Switching.
